Liz Eaton is a Fellow of the British Horse Society

The Fellowship is the ultimate aspiration for any coach and is recognized as the highest equestrian qualification in the world. Only 90 Fellowships have been awarded since 1949 and Liz is the most recent. With over 40 years experience, Liz brings a wealth of knowledge and skills to training both horses and riders. She draws on her understanding of biomechanics of both horse and rider to give each partnership a tailor-made experience and improve their relationship and performance whatever their level. Liz is the Coach of the Croatian Dressage Team but as her approach is effective for all disciplines, she also coaches international riders in Eventing and Show Jumping. Liz welcomes auditors and is an experienced presenter for lectures and demonstrations. Coach education is a passion for Liz and she is always willing to share her knowledge and experience with anyone keen to develop their skills.
